INTRODUCING DR. CHARLOTTE KWIK

Dr Charlotte Kwik is a colorectal and general surgeon.

After graduating from the University of Sydney, she trained in General Surgery at the Royal North Shore Hospital in Sydney and qualified as a Fellow of the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons in 2019. She undertook further advanced training in colorectal surgery at Royal North Shore and Gosford Hospital before completing subspecialty training at Westmead Hospital and Gold Coast University Hospital as part of the prestigious Colorectal Surgical Society of Australia and New Zealand training program.

She is a well-rounded colorectal surgeon with an interest in the minimally invasive surgical management of benign and malignant colorectal conditions including colorectal cancer, inflammatory bowel disease and endometriosis. She also has an interest in general proctology cases and pelvic floor conditions.

Charlotte has a public/private appointment at the Northern Beaches Hospital, as well as private appointments at Dee Why Endoscopy Unit and North Shore Private Hospital. She is consulting at both Dee Why Endoscopy Unit and the Northern Sydney Colorectal Clinic in St Leonards.
